Village Council News:

Winter has been pretty kind to us, and now it's March and we are waiting for spring. As your village council, we would like to take a moment to thank all of you for the kindness, generosity, and service you have shown to each other. There have been meals shared, driveways cleared, rides given and so much more. To begin to name you wonderful people would be disastrous because I know I would miss someone. So please accept our gratitude for your goodness. It is truly a blessing to live where people care for and about each other. Onto reports.

The Cardston County Emergency Services met on March 2 and they have a few things to report. It has been fairly quiet as far as responding goes, and that's a good thing. Some of our local firefighters are going to be participating in an Ice Rescue Training in Magrath this month. I don't know how you feel about being in water in March, but I'm so glad that it won't be me. The Town of Cardston is still waiting on their new fire truck. It's supposed to begin the building process in April, with a December projected delivery.

This doesn't have much, if anything, to do with the CCES, but it was reported at the meeting, so I thought I'd share it with you. There will be a concert in Cardston on April 29, 2023. It will be featuring Brett Kissel. The location is still up in the air. It will be held at either the high school or the ice rink.

The Chinook Lodge and the Diamond Willow Lodge have rooms available for seniors who need a little extra care. If you, or someone you know, is in need of support, please contact either of these two facilities for more information.

There will be an Easter activity sponsored by the Glenwood Recreation Board. Please watch for more information to come.

There will be a seed exchange held in Hill Spring, March 25, from 9-4. For more information, please contact Patti Falkner.

That's about it for this month. We, as council, are honoured to serve you. Please contact Cindy, Patti, or any of us if there is anything we can help you with. We don't have all the answers, but we do want to help where we can.

Happy spring everyone.

Our Computer Class will now be Tuesday, March 7 from 12:00 – 1:30, due to poor weather on the date it was originally scheduled. Call to register or drop-ins welcome!

Movie night will be Friday, March 17 @ 6:30pm at the Glenwood Community Hall.

Story time will be held on the 14th and 28th @ 10:30. Bring your 3 – 7 year olds for stories, activities, songs and snacks!

Our next board meeting will be held on Monday, March 20 @ 6:45pm.

One of the new services from the AB Govt is an online Emergency Registration System.

When you log into emergencyregistration.alberta.ca, you can register yourself and your household members, even pets. This information is used only during an Emergency Event in our local area and is shared with the Evacuation Center when you check in, thus making the process much easier during a stressful time. If you need help or don't have access to the internet, call 310-4455 and operators can take your information and get you registered.

They are available 24/7.

Twin Rivers Rural Crime Watch Association will be holding it's annual AGM on Thursday, March 16 at 7:00 PM at the Glenwood Community Hall.

This association is fairly new in our area and is meant to be a link for information from the RCMP regarding local crime events. Membership costs $20/year.

Refreshments will be served and everyone is welcome to attend.

For more info on joining, please email twinriversruralcrimewatch@gmail.com.

The Importance of Reporting a Crime

Alberta Provincial Rural Crime Watch Association Bulletin - February 16, 2023

Crimes, especially property crimes, are often unreported; on average, only 30-40% of property crimes are reported.

You may think the crime is insignificant, but reporting it contributes to the large picture of policing in Alberta. What we don't see is that when we don't make a report, it can impact the overall responsiveness in your rural community. As well, it may make it harder for the police to catch offenders without information from the public.

When you make a report, the RCMP takes the information gathered from reported crimes to decide where to send their patrols. They send those resources to where there is the largest number of reported crimes to help combat that rise. So, if you and your neighbours are not reporting crimes, the RCMP may appoint fewer resources to your area.

People often think when they call to report a crime, the officer is coming from a detachment and equating that to the response time. When, in actuality, the officer responding may be on patrol in the area. So, by having fewer patrol units, the response time is higher.

This is where an initiative by the RCMP called Data 2 Action comes into play. Data 2 Action is a program that focuses resources on the province's most vulnerable communities and targets common crimes in those areas based on reports to the police.

Based on the data acquired from reports, including what kind of crimes are committed and where and when they are committed, RCMP can identify hotspots and assign resources to that area.

So, for example, if an area is experiencing a high number of auto theft reports, the RCMP could place bait vehicles with special tracking equipment in strategic locations - based on the data from reports. As well, local RCMP and community groups are notified to be on the lookout.

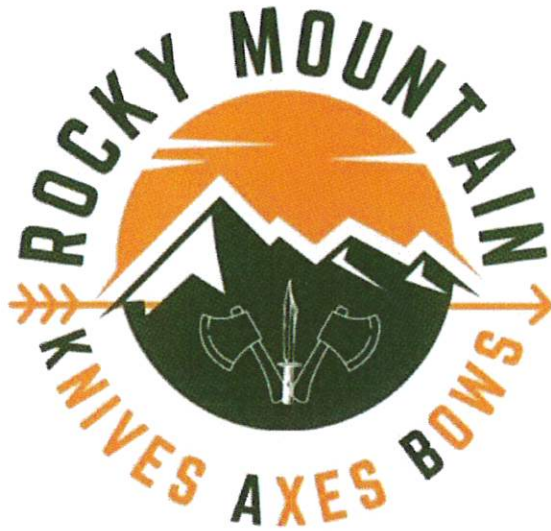

As a part of the Data 2 Action program, meetings are also regularly held with local and regional partners, including the RCMP, community members and local businesses.

With the Data 2 Action program, the RCMP has also made it easier for individuals to report crimes. There have been several changes to how crimes are reported and what is taken into consideration.

- Online app
- Crimes under $5000 are a part of the reporting
- Individuals can make reports after the fact
 - For example, if they return home to find their property stolen
